

Weather Bright for America's Space Venture

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A brightening weather picture buoyed hopes today that astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. will be launched toward a round-the-earth orbit Tuesday after months of delays.

At a morning briefing, Project Mercury officials reported "generally improved conditions" in the Atlantic recovery areas where Marine Lt. Col. Glenn's capsule would descend.

The first half of a split two-day countdown was started at 2:30 a.m. The precount was finished at 6 a.m., with both the Atlas booster rocket and Friendship 7 spacecraft described as in "go" condition.

Officials were shooting for a launch between 7:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. Tuesday.

The weather outlook in the Cape Canaveral vicinity gave officials some concern. A cold front, preceded by a squall line was, advancing into northern Florida this morning. This could leave lingering cloudiness in the cape area, possibly delaying the shot for the 11th time.

However, officials were hopeful holes could be found in the clouds through which the rocket could be fired.

A complete check of the weather was due for about midnight tonight, after which officials were to make a preliminary decision.

"We feel a lot more optimistic today than we did yesterday," said Lt. Col. John A. Powers, spokesman for the astronauts.

"Conservatively I would say the odds are at least 60-40 in our favor."

Powers said one change had been made in the lineup of ships poised to recover Glenn. The aircraft carrier Porpoise, which replaced the carrier Constellation in the area—500 miles east of Bermuda—where Glenn would come down if he made only one orbit, instead of the hoped-for three.

"Relaxed as he can be," Glenn planned to phone his wife and parents tonight before going to bed about 7 or 8 o'clock.

If he completes three orbits, as planned, Glenn will land in the Atlantic about 800 miles southeast of the Cape.

Some cloudiness was predicted in the Cape Canaveral area by Tuesday morning. But NASA weather watchers were rooting for it to thin out so Glenn can blast off about 7:30 a.m. EST. Good visibility is a must to permit filming the rocket during the critical early phases of its flight.

Project Mercury officials will make their final go-or-no-go decision, based on the latest weather, at a midnight briefing Monday. There were three postponements last week after such eleventh-hour weather checks.

Technical crews planned to complete the first half of the 14-hour prelaunch countdown today, then pick up the count again after midnight—if the decision is made to try for a launch.

Out on pad 14, launch crews loaded the kerosene-like fuel back into the Atlas rocket Sunday afternoon. NASA said the rocket and the capsule were "technically ready for the countdown and launch."

Much has been said and written over the past weeks about the tension Glenn must be experiencing, but the astronaut told reporters: "I'm not a bit nervous, I'm relaxed as can be."

Morrilton to Get Second Trade School

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Morrilton beat out Fort Smith as site for the proposed second Arkansas vocational trade school Sunday, and state Rep. Johnny Boatright of Fort Smith charged "a stacked deal" and political maneuvering.

The state Board of Education voted 5-1 Sunday in favor of Morrilton. The vote came after the board heard a report from a special Vocational School Advisory Council which had inspected sites in both cities.

Boatright charged that the advisory council was a put-up job, and that no one was appointed to it unless they were already in favor of Morrilton.

Boatright called the decision for Morrilton "one of the biggest in

Professor Apologizes for Sex Talk

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—A professor has apologized for his part in allowing a New York psychiatrist to deliver an out-spoken talk on sex in a University of Arkansas auditorium last week.

Dr. Richard V. Ganslen, a psychologist at the university, said he did not know that Dr. Albert Ellis of New York would condone pre-marital sex relations in his speech.

In his talk Tuesday, Ellis said anyone who reaches the age of 25 without having sexual relations had better get to a psychoanalyst or to psychiatric help.

He said he had made similar remarks all over the country and had met "a little opposition but no great excitement."

Ganslen said he did not agree with Ellis and that his only part in the appearance was signing a routine form allowing the Fayetteville Mental Health Association use of the auditorium. About 400 students also showed up.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus demanded Saturday that the faculty member responsible for Ellis' appearance apologize or be fired.

Ganslen said Sunday he apologized to Dr. David Mullins, university president.

Ellis later said in New York that "I think Gov. Faubus' reaction is one of his typical interferences without constitutional upholding freedom of speech."

Suit Dismissed by Court, Will Hear 2 Others

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An appeal challenging the merger of Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. and MidSouth Gas Co. was dismissed today by the Arkansas Supreme Court.

The appeal was brought by Wiley A. McGeece of McGeece, a MidSouth minority stockholder.

Pulaski Circuit Court had upheld Public Service Commission approval of the merger and McGeece appealed to the Supreme Court.

The high court declined to dismiss appeals filed in two Paragould election contest suits.

The appeals were filed by former Mayor Charles Wood and former alderman Robert H. Harris, defeated candidates in last year's election.

Mayor J. T. Brown and alderman George Textor, the appellees, asked for dismissal of the appeals.

The Supreme Court decided, instead, to hear the cases on their merits.

In another decision, the Supreme Court ordered a new trial for George W. Bostic, who received a one-year-prison sentence for false pretense in Union Circuit Court.

The Supreme Court said the trial judge erred in refusing to instruct the jury that it should consider whether Bostic was genuinely convinced he was a licensed insurance agent when the alleged false pretense occurred.

The suit involved Bostic's collection of a $104.52 insurance policy premium from one Ivon Skinner.

In other opinions issued today, the Supreme Court:

Reversed and remanded to Union Circuit Court a property dispute case between James Mason and Mrs. Mattie P. Morel.

The trial court ruled Mrs. Morel had gained title by adverse possession to a 14-foot strip of land between her home and Mason's.

The Supreme Court said the lower court erred in permitting Mrs. Morel to introduce poor quality photographs of the property in evidence.

Reversed an Arkansas Chancery Court ruling that voided a 1966 deed under which Mrs. Nora Brown contended she intended to give Mrs. Noble only a half-interest in the property. The Supreme Court affirmed Mrs. Noble's title to the land and said she should continue to pay $165 a month for support of her mother.

Affirmed a $15,761 Faulkner Circuit Court damage award against International Harvester Co. for the death of Mack Farlin Land, who was killed in an accident at International's repair shop in Conway April 22, 1960.

The jury awarded $1,523 to Land's estate and $14,238 to his parents Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Land.

Affirmed a St. Francis Circuit Court order which voided an automobile sales contract between one Anson M. Hudgens and a West Memphis auto firm on grounds of fraud.

Affirmed Poinsett Circuit Court's refusal to award damages against George H. Stallings for the traffic accident death of Arthur L. Anderson, 4, of Marked Tree.

Hope Girl Is Best Dressed at College

Sharon Foster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. W. Foster, 410 West Second St., Hope, Ark., has been selected the "Best Dressed Girl" at Randolph-Macon Woman's College and entered in Glamour Magazine's contest for the "10 Best Dressed College Girls in America."

A 19-year-old brunette with brown eyes, Sharon was chosen at an all-campus election over 28 other contestants. She is a sophomore.

It was the second time within a week that her fellow students had honored her. Two days earlier she was elected to the college's highly select May Court for 1962. She was the only freshman in the 1961 May Court.

Active in the campus YWCA, Sharon is chairman of its Presbyterian Home Committee and a Sophomore Ask-Me for Freshmen orientation.

Sharon plans to major in Spanish and minor in mathematics or English. Last summer she attended the University of Guadalajara in Mexico. The previous summer she was a life guard at the Hope Country Club.

Criteria considered in the campus and national competitions for "Best Dressed Girl" are: figure, posture, make-up, grooming, appropriate dress for all occasions, individuality in use of color and accessories, a workable wardrobe plan, imagination in managing a clothes budget, and a clear understanding of fashion type.

Three photographs of Miss Foster — in an on-campus outfit, a daytime off-campus outfit, and a party dress — will be submitted to the magazine to compete with those of "best dressed" candidates from several hundred colleges and universities.

In March, a panel of Glamour editors will name the ten most outstanding young women. The top ten will be photographed for Glamour's August issue and will be the magazine's guests in New York for two weeks.

Allied Planes Hit Corridor, Counter Soviet Pressure

By GEORGE BOULTWOOD

BERLIN (AP)—Allied aircraft flew through the north corridor from Berlin today to counter renewed Soviet pressure on the vital air lanes, informed sources said.

Military and commercial transports thrust through the Berlin-Hamburg corridor over Communist East German territory, the informants said.

The Western operation was designed to assert Allied rights in face of the renewal of harassing tactics by the Red air force.

Western commanders gave orders for the transports to fly deliberately below the level the Soviets want for their exclusive use for a three-hour period.

For the sixth time since it started harassing Western air links to Berlin on Feb. 7, the Soviet air force told the Berlin Air Safety Center Sunday night it was reserving air space up to 7,500 feet in the north corridor, leading to Berlin from Hamburg.

Allied control officers rejected the Soviet flight plan and ordered military transports to stand by.

The Soviet move came after a weekend pause in the Berlin air crisis. Sunday morning, Moscow announced it had rejected a three-hour protest that maneuvers of the Red air force in the corridors were dangerous and illegal.

The Allies insist that air safety rules, in force for 17 years, require notification of each individual flight through the three 20-mile wide corridors linking Berlin with Frankfurt, Hannover and Hamburg.

The Western powers charged the Russians were trying to change the rules by making "black bookings" for the Red air force. The Allies do not dispute Soviet contentions the Red air force has equal rights in the corridors but they insist on carrying out the safety rules.

The Allies complained to the Kremlin that Soviet jet fighters buzzed Western aircraft in the corridors last week.

The West is making its firm stand because of the extreme importance of the air routes to Berlin. Only by air can travelers go to Berlin and back without submitting tickets at Communist road points on highways and railroads.

East Germany has charged for months that the West has misused the air corridors. The 1945 regime says it is illegal for Western commercial airliners to fly to Berlin, because, they claim, the corridors were provided only for Allied military garrisons.

Accompanied by 11 military and diplomatic officials, McNamara arrived Sunday night from Washington and repeated remarks made earlier that the South Viet Nam government appears to be making progress in the fight against Communist subversion and infiltration.

He declined specific comment when asked whether the United States was becoming directly involved in guerrilla warfare against the Viet Cong Troops.

Before leaving Washington however, McNamara said that President Kennedy had made it quite clear that U.S. military personnel in South Viet Nam serve only in technical and advisory capacities justices that's ever been done in western Arkansas.

The school will be built with $275,000 appropriated by the 1961 legislature. It will be located on 30 acres of land now owned by Conway County Sheriff Marlin Hawkins.

State Sen. Knox Nelson, a member of the advisory committee, said Hawkins would give the land to the city for the school.

The site is north of Morrilton near the junction of state Highway 9 and proposed Interstate Highway 40.

Nelson said Morrilton was selected for several reasons. Primarily, he said, it is centrally located for the people of north and northwest Arkansas. A trade school is needed for a predominantly rural area, he said, because the other trade school, at Pine Bluff, is in an industrial area.

Nelson said that more than 75,000 people live within a radius of 50 miles of Morrilton and that 10 counties in the area supported the town's bid for the school.

Also he said, future navigation on the Arkansas River will cause a large amount of industrial growth in the area, and the school will provide jobs.

"We in northwest Arkansas have created more jobs than the rest of the state combined," Boat-right said. "We need a school like that up here and we need it bad.
In fact, we'll put one here if we have to do it out of our own pockets."

Perrin Jones of Searcy, a board member, said the committee had three reasons for not locating the school in Fort Smith. First he

Cuban Exiles in Guatemala Plan Army

By MORRIS W. ROSENBERG
GUATEMALA (AP) — A group of Cuban exiles here are organizing an army to seek the overthrow of Prime Minister Rical Castro in Cuba. The organization, however, is still on paper and says it cannot mobilize unless it gets U.S. weapons.

The best available information is that no Cuban exiles are being trained here under arms at this time. Both Guatemalan and U.S. officials deny there is such activity. Guatemala was one of the training areas for the abortive invasion of Cuba last April.

The organization is called the Army of Liberation of Cuba. Its chief is a former commander of the Cuban army, Gen. Jose B.
Pedraza by Cabrera, 58.

In an interview, General Ped-raza would say only that "we are not now training any soldiers."

A civilian spokesman for the group, asking that he not be identified, said the organization has "all the men we need" for an attack on Cuba.

These men—all Cubans—are now scattered throughout the continent waiting for the signal to unite and train as an invasion army, he said.

The army cannot be mobilized however, without weapons from the United States, the spokesman said.

As far as can be learned, the organization's efforts to approach the United States government for backing with arms have not yet met with any success.

The spokesman said that although Gen. Pedraza is commander in all military aspects, the organization is controlled by a director of about 30 men. He described them as businessmen, professionals, farmers, laborers, industrialists and bankers.

DOROTHY DIX

Husband Pays the Price

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: The devil holds my promissory note and is charging usury rates all because I'm learning for the first time in my life, what love really is.

I was a poor but ambitious boy who married the boss's daughter for money, not love. Knowing this, she still wanted me. I've lived up to my part of the bargain; fathered the son and daughter she longed for; justified her belief in my business ability and generally played the role of attentive husband — the type who could qualify as man of distinction in a whiskey ad.

In return, I'm president at 40 of the concern which her family built up to be the mainstay of our town. I head civic groups, am vestryman of the leading church and live in the mansion which she inherited, along with the business, from her folks.

Yet having everything, I have nothing, since I can't possess the only woman I've ever loved—not my wife.

When I married, I thought love was kid stuff. Suddenly this woman came into my life. We met in passing at a charity drive. After that I was conscious of her presence when she walked down the aisle at church to her pew; aware of her when she entered the room at some party; lonely when she and her husband and two children moved to another state; in heaven when they returned after a couple of years to their old home. Once more we were thrown together and before we knew it our friendship turned into a deep and abiding love.

I forced myself to stop seeing her, to try and do what was right, but it is very hard—just a smile, a wave in passing sets my blood on fire. I see the sorrow in her face and fear grips my heart, knowing she needs me.

What do we do, just go on hoping that some day we shall have the happiness for which both of us long? If I divorce, provided my wife sanctions one, I lose everything I've worked for and shall come to my loved-one penniless. Should I risk all and confess the truth to my wife? I don't know the answer, do you? —Very Lonely.

Dear Lonely: Advancement of character is the important thing in this life. If your own character is ever to develop, you should put the welfare of your wife and children, as well as the other woman and her family, above selfish personal desires. It's not what you want but what is best for them which matters. Have the courage to tell your wife the truth. If, after hearing it, she still insists upon continuing status quo, you are in honor bound to keep faith with her since she has already kept her part of the bargain by providing you with money, a career and social position.

Dear Helen: My husband, a Navy officer, has the typical cave-man attitude toward a wife; what's mine is his but what's his isn't mine.

Our house, car, bank account and stocks and bonds are all in his name. Now that I have a job he thinks I should give him every cent I earn. I say, "Over my dead body, you'll get it." He insists it is due him since he's been supporting me all these years. If I don't come across, it will be a case of insubordination to the U.S. Navy since he represents the Navy. People think what a nice man I drew. They don't know the heel. —Poor Wife.

Dear Poor Wife: You've been letting that husband of yours pull the wool over your eyes! It is his duty to support you whether or not you earn any money; in fact, you should be receiving an allotment from the government as the wife of a Navy man. This quibbling about money indicates all is not well with your marriage. If you can't come to an amicable understanding with your husband, consult the Legal Aid Society.

Day Serials Reflect Life in America

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP TV Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The daytime serials—sometimes referred to as washboard weepers or soap operas—are, as usual, busily reflecting the day by day life of the average American family.

Ricky, in "Love of Life," has been unjustly accused of murdering his boss. One can only hope his

There's a branch office in your town.

Dear Helen: I'm a little girl with a big problem, a troublesome aunt and uncle with taking ways. If anything goes wrong in our home, and plenty does, they're at the bottom of it. They take what is rightfully ours then fib their way out. Mom stays quiet to keep peace but I won't.

They boast about their money, their clothes, their home when they use our money, wear our clothes and grow fat on our food. Mom works hard for what we have. Yesterday I was in my room counting money I'd been saving to buy Mom a present. My aunt looked in, saw it, "Oh, I need some change for stamps," and took my 47 cents. When I told Mom last night, my aunt said I was a fibber. Mom believed her. Please help make my Mom believe me. —C.

Dear C.: Ask your mother why she doubts your word. Make it crystal clear that what you say is the truth. If she still questions it, keep your own counsel. The less you say, the more it will irritate that obnoxious aunt and uncle. "Fate made our relatives. Choice makes our friends."

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and address her care of this newspaper. Helpful leaflets available. Write for "Manners and Young People."

wife will stick by him through the ordeal because when the killing took place, innocent Ricky was dead drunk and with the "other woman," his only alibi.

On "Search for Tomorrow," the reformed, alcoholic husband of Rich Allison slipped back into his cups just before he was scheduled to make an important speech and staggered out of the meeting.

Robin, on "Guiding Light," is now married to an older, rich, and terribly jealous man, but Michael, her first husband—young and good looking—is back on the scene again. Robin still seems faithful to Alex, her current spouse, but it's a dangerous situation.

Young "Doctor Malone's" wife has just had a dreadful time having a baby, and homicidal Claire, who is the wife of somebody else in the story, is in a mental institution.

This reporter, immersed for a few days by a vagrant virus, whiled away some of the weary hours with the serials. They may be a delight to the daily watcher but they are pretty incomprehensible to an occasional one.

Best viewing bets for the acute—as opposed to chronic—daytime viewers are the game and audience participation shows. It takes only a few minutes to get the hang of the game, and if you are sick enough, it might prove mildly entertaining.

"Concentration," "Password" and "The Price is Right" were, I found, just about perfect for invalid viewing.

In the unlikely event anybody believed police work in New York City is a barrel of laughs as exemplified by "Car 54, Where Are You?" two real cops in patrol car

A Greek healer, Asclepius, turned the city of Epidaurus into the biggest medical and faith-healing center in Greece. His weapons against disease were herbs, surgery, autohypnosis, faith healing and a type of psychoanalysis.

1500 demonstrated Sunday night that it is difficult, sometimes dirty and often dangerous work.

The program was NBC's "Police Emergency," on the work of the emergency squad.

A camera crew followed Mike Chadwick and Gene Corcoran for three months and we saw them pulling a corpse from the river, administering first aid to victims of heart and knife attacks, interviewing holdup victims, carrying an old lady's bundle and talking together about their families and boyhoods.

Any resemblance to the usual TV police-action show was purely coincidental.

Red Premier's Wife Asks Disarmament

NEW YORK (AP) — Speaking English that came through clearly, Nina Khrushchev appeared in a special broadcast to American women for international understanding and complete disarmament.

The Soviet premier's wife, whose words were easily understandable despite her accent, called on Americans Sunday night to lay down their arms and be friends with the Soviet Union. "War must not be allowed to break out," she said in her 10-minute broadcast, beamed by Moscow radio at 2:30 a.m. Monday, Moscow time. "This can be done through general disarmament under strict international control."

Mrs. Khrushchev said she was replying to American women who had written expressing their concern about the danger of war, especially a nuclear conflict.

Echoing her husband's line, she said governments should dump "all weapons into the ocean."

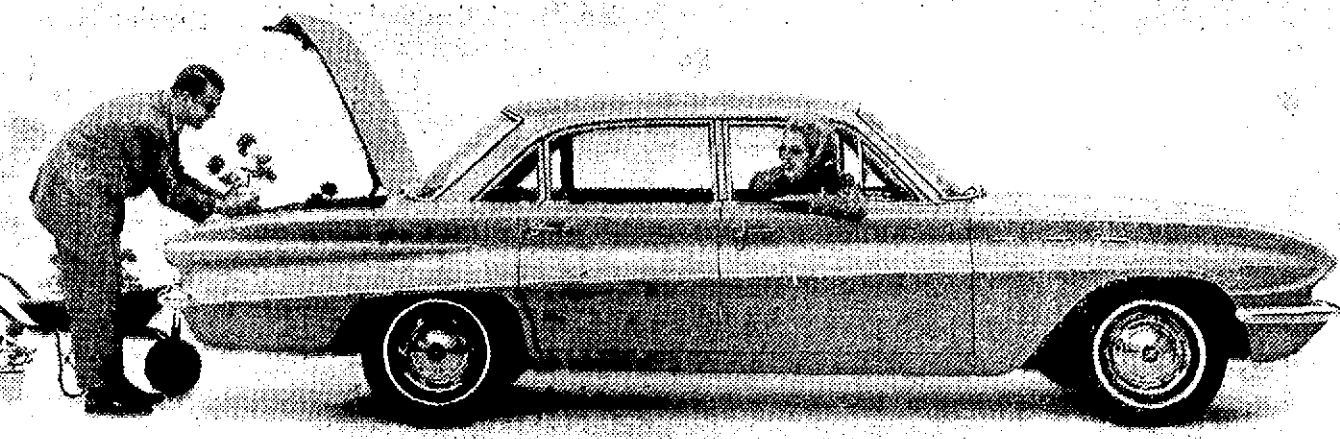

She also echoed the Soviet premier's call for opening the 18-nation disarmament conference in Geneva March 14 at the summit level.

Big Scramble to Fill Spots in Tourney

By ED CORRIGAN

Associated Press Sports Writer

The annual mad scramble between the NCAA and the NIT to fill 22 spots in their post-season basketball tournaments gets under way today. The two tournaments have an armed truce that prohibited them from sending out bids earlier.

The NCAA will select 10 teams for its at-large group to complete the 15 league champions that go into the tournament which starts next month and culminates in the championship game in Louisville on March 24.

The NIT, held in New York's Madison Square Garden, picks out 12 teams that are not committed to the NCAA. Each year the going has been getting tougher for the NIT.

Virtually none of the candidates for either at-large berths in the NCAA or the NIT has spectacular records. They show a minimum of two defeats and range all the way up to nine setbacks.

Among the major teams that could be tapped for either tournament are Houston (18-5), St. Bonaventure (13-6), Boston College (12-5), New York U. (13-3), Villanova (16-5), Duquesne (16-5), Holy Cross (16-3), Dayton (15-6), De Paul (11-8), Loyola of Chicago (16-2), Memphis State (15-5), Louisville (10-9), Oregon State (17-3), and St. John's (14-4).

The NIT can pick off the runner-up or leading challenger in four of the major conferences—the Missouri Valley, Middle Atlantic, Skyline and Border.

The Missouri Valley presents an intriguing situation whereby the NIT probably is hoping that Cincinnati finishes second best. The Bearcats whipped Ohio State in the final of the NCAA tournament last year.

Tonight, Cincinnati, which has been having its troubles in its own back yard, faces Bradley in a league game and needs a victory to pull into a tie for the lead.

The Bearcats are heavily favored, mainly because Joe Strawder, Bradley's 6-foot-8 pivotman, has been dismissed from school. The two teams are bound to

Hope Girls in Loss to Lady Wolves 44 - 36

By VINCE FOSTER

Although it was printed Saturday that the Lady Cats had won the district tournament at Prescott, this was an error. That win over Texarkana was in the semi-finals, and put the Lady Cats into the finals Saturday night, which they lost to Prescott 44-36. Therefore Prescott is the district champion instead of Hope.

At Magnolia Saturday night, Hope took twin wins over the Panthers by sizable margins, as the Bobcats eased by 54-38 and the "B" team won 49-33.

The Bobcats shutout the Panthers in the first quarter 16-0. They stretched their lead to 29-0 at the half, but midway, however, the Cats led 40-27 going into the final quarter in which they outscored the hosts 14-11.

T-Bob Roberts was high scorer for the Cats with 20 points. Hatfield followed with 13 and Murphy 12. Powell 7, Walker and Russell one each and Dennis led the losers with 9.

The "B" team had no more trouble than the Cats, leading in the first period 12-2 and at the half 27-14. They outscored the hosts 22-19 in the second half to win 49-33. McDowell and Reinhardt were high for Hope with 10 each, followed by Hughes with 9, Foster 5, Jones, Purdie and Thrash 4 each, McLarty 2 and Wassell 1.

The Lady Cats trailed throughout the game, although never by a very large margin, and they just couldn't get an offensive thrust going. Prescott lead by quarters 7-6, 20-13, 37-21 and 44-36. Cullent was high with 22, giving her a three game district total of 69 or a 23 point average. Loyd scored 8, and Calhoun 7 to complete the scoring. Although these girls didn't win the tournament after all, they still deserve praise for getting as far as the finals. Hats off to them!

The Bobcats wrap up their regular season this weekend as they travel to Fairview Friday and play Crosssett here Saturday. The public is urged to support these Cats in their final games of the regular season.

Black Hawks Run for Spot in Playoff

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Chicago Black Hawks, making a determined run at securing a more advantageous Stanley Cup playoff spot, have crept to within five points of Toronto in the National Hockey League standings.

Finishing second or third could make a great deal of difference for the defending cup champions. If they finish third, they probably will face powerful Montreal, the regular season leader, in the first-round playoffs.

Should they finish second, and they must catch Toronto to do it, they would be likely to face either New York or Detroit in the first round, far less imposing foes than the Canadiens.

Montreal suffered only its second loss in 18 games Sunday night, falling to Detroit 4-2. The Canadiens retained their 11-point lead over Toronto, however, which lost to New York 6-2. Chicago closed up with a 6-0 rout of Boston.

Detroit scored three goals in the first 11 minutes against Montreal then relied on the good goaltending of Hank Bassen to outlast the Canadiens.

Andy Bathgate and Guy Gendron each scored twice for the Rangers, who took full advantage of listless skating and indifferent backchecking by Toronto. A three goal burst in the final period made it a rout.

Chicago sewed it up in the first period against the last-place Bruins, jamming in five quick goals.

Runer Says He Can Hit 9 Seconds

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—A husky young Florida A&M university sophomore who thinks he can run 100 yards in 9 seconds flat is in for some dieting and more training.

Robert Hayes, who tied the world's record of 9.2 seconds in a meet at the University of Miami Saturday, said, "I think I can beat that time." He expressed confidence he eventually will run the distance in 9 seconds.

"I think the fact that he tied the record will give him the determination to break it," said Pete Griffin, who coaches the Florida A&M football line and the track team.

"He has the potential to break the record. Now he has the determination to do it. His 182 pounds is a little heavy, so we will watch his diet carefully. He needs to take off a few pounds."

The 19-year-old Negro, from Jacksonville, who stands 5-feet 11, equalled the record set by Frank Budd of Villanova in New York on June 24, 1961.

Spa Racing Season Is Underway

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Oaklawn Park opens its first full week of racing today with Leo Weinberger's Onebyalength heading a field of sprinters in the featured $3,500 Hot Springs Handicappers purse.

Saturday's opening day was one of the most successful in history. A record opening day mutuel handle of $684,906 came from a crowd of 14,723, second largest opening crowd in the track's history.

R. G. Anderson's Patanandy and Whippleton won their respective divisions of the Inaugural Handicap. Each division was worth $7,500.

Today's eight-race card features sprints. The feature is six furlongs, with Marion H. Van Berg's Spring Broker assigned top weight of 121 pounds. Spring Broker won one division of the 1960 Arkansas Derby.

Onebyalength, fresh from a campaign at New Orleans Fair Grounds, is a 4-year-old son of John's Joy, a former crack performer owned by John Kinnard of Briceys, Ark.

Onebyalength will carry 113 pounds and will be seeking his second victory over the year. He won four of his 28 starts last year.

Paired with Spring Broker will be Mr. M. H., carrying 120 pounds.

Others in the field are E. J. Crossfield's Little Atlas, the L. and R. Stable's Arab Road, R. C. Gilmore's Pony Tail, Mrs. Emil Denemark's Santiago, John Ford's Tin God and W. Hal Bishop's Ward Bond.

Both the Van Berg horses and Little Atlas came here from New Orleans.

Dirt Dobbers Leading Little League

Hope Auto's Dirt Dobbers are currently leading the Little Baseball League with a record of 3 wins and no losses. Standing second are Copeland Hardware's Cool Cats with a 2 won and 2 lost record. Rounding out the League are Gulf's Bo-Diddies with 1 win and 3 losses and Owens Hot Rods with 1 win and 2 losses. Coaches for the teams are respectively, George Wright Jr., Buddy Jordan, Jerry Burnett and Larry Walker and Tommy Still.

Due to the flu epidemic, the teams are running 3 games behind schedule and the regular 9 game schedule may have to be chopped to 6 games in order to finish by March 3 and prevent running too far over into the track season.

The remaining schedule is as follows:

Feb. 24: Bo-Diddies vs Cool Cats, 10 a.m.; Hot Rods vs Dirt Dobbers 11 a.m.

March 3rd: Dirt Dobbers vs Cool Cats 10 a.m.; Bo-Diddies vs Hot Rods 11 a.m.

Porkers Fade Fast, Tech Ties for Lead

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP)—The fast fading Arkansas Razorbacks tried vainly but fell before Texas Tech 76-64 in a tightly fought Southwest Conference basketball game here Saturday night.

Arkansas came within four points at 6:20 on the clock but 14 straight points by Del Ray Mounts, a 5-10 senior, iced the game for the Red Raiders.

Mounts dropped in 28 points to pace Tech's scoring attack and save a slice of the conference lead with Texas A&M and Southern Methodist.

Sixth place Arkansas dropped to 4-6 and was virtually eliminated.

Tommy Boyer, Jim Wilson and reserve Bobby Anderson each scored 13 points in Arkansas' losing bid while Jerry Carlton struck for 12.

The only other Raider scoring in double figures was Bobby Gin-dorf with 11.

Arkansas dropped in 24 of 30 from the charity line but managed only 31 per cent from the field. Tech hit a red hot 48 per cent of its field goals.

Tech grabbed a lead with only seven minutes gone and raced to a 37-26 halftime edge.

Doubt of Winner of Daytona Race

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—NASCAR officials scheduled a meeting today to determine whether Glenn (Fireball) Roberts or Richard Petty won Sunday's rich Daytona 500 mile stock car race.

Roberts, of Daytona Beach, crossed the finish line first in his Pontiac 27 seconds ahead of Petty but Petty lodged a protest.

The Randleman, N.C., driver, who drove a Plymouth, claimed that Roberts used too many men to service his car on the last pit stop.

Regardless of who is adjudged winner, a world's record will have been set for a continuous 500-mile auto race.

Roberts toured the track, which
